Worker Voice and Influence

The James Irvine Foundation has an initiative focused on low-wage workers aimed at supporting these workers' efforts to influence corporate and public policy that improves their overall wellbeing, job quality and worker opportunities. An array of projects have been funded through this initiative that bring together workers, employers, policymakers and others to improve the financial and working conditions of a variety of disenfranchised employee groups. Newer models of worker organization that reflect the changing nature of work are also being explored.

Workforce Health and Performance — Bright Ideas Survey

Take the survey here: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/TWLW87T>

The Center for Workforce Health and Performance wants your Bright Ideas. We will feature these ideas, select guest bloggers, delve deeply on topics and inform research and practice by spreading these Bright Ideas.

For our first Bright Ideas survey we would like to know your thoughts on the best ways to support workforce health and performance.

Our challenge — can you do it in 20 words or less?
